

PRESIDENT, HULL FIGHT LIMITING OF TRADE PACTS

Roosevelt Thinks Year's Limit Would Be Bad For This Country

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he believed it would be very harmful to the nation if the bill to extend the reciprocal trade treaty act were limited to one year.

The chief executive spoke at a press conference shortly after it was reported on excellent authority that Vice President Garner was supporting an amendment to limit extension of the administration's trade agreements program to one year.

Legislation near final senate action, already approved by the house, would extend the program for three years from June 12.

Secretary Hull added his voice to the chorus of administration opposition to a one-year extension. He characterized the proposal as utterly unfeasible.

Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) introduced the one-year amendment immediately after today's senate session began. In a statement, he said he did not wish to embarrass proponents of three-year extension nor join in any "rebuke to the president and to Secretary Hull".

Calls Yearly Scraps Bad

Roosevelt said it was not good for the country to have a scrap over tariffs coming up every year. Such a scrap, he said, is essentially what is involved in discussions in congress of the trade treaty act.

In the first year of whatever administration comes in in 1941, he said, it would be harmful to the whole United States to have to bring up the trade treaty issue again. That was true, he declared whether it would be a Republican or Democratic administration, a Republican or Democratic congress, and regardless of who the individual may be who will head the national administration next year.

When a tariff is up for consideration, he said, agriculture and industry are in a state of confusion because they do not know what is going to be done, and economic activity of the country feels the effect.

The president told reporters he had heard yesterday of a proposal in the senate to limit to one year extension of the system of negotiating tariff reductions by international agreements.

Two Reds Arrested

It is best to talk about the proposal, Roosevelt asserted, from what he called a novel point of view in Washington in a campaign year—the point of view of the national good.

That is almost unheard of, he said, and takes the trend of thought back to something almost overlooked in these days—the national good regardless of party.

We all know, he continued, that tariffs are a headache to any congress and any party. If tariff considerations are recurring every year, he said it would be a bad thing for the country as everyone had seen what happened during tariff debates.

Regardless of party, the chief executive said, the bill in its present form seems to him to be a good thing for the country.

Hull figured in the news otherwise by announcing that the United States had proposed arbitration.

The War Today!

The Anglo-French announcement of intention to continue to seek victory through economic strangulation of Germany has given Herr Hitler a positive indication of the task cut out for him—and it isn't easy.

The allies having made the rules for this unique duel, the fuhrer hasn't been offered any choice of weapons. If it happens that he dislikes the idea of strangulation and prefers the use of arms, he will have to make the opportunity for himself by launching an offensive.

Germany is confronted with the alternatives of (1) creating a source of supplies sufficient to keep the cupboards of the nation full and the war industries running, or of (2) cutting loose with its powerful war-machine.

The allies for their part are quite content for the moment to depend on their naval blockade, supplemented by a politico-economic blockade on land among the neutral states. That blockade, by the way, never ceases to work either day or night.

Armies pause for rest, but the blockade just keeps on squeezing tighter and tighter until we get a position which was described rather grimly yesterday by British Premier Chamberlain thus:

"You can take it from me that one by one leaks and loopholes

Social Illness, as Medical Term, Now Recognized

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Service Editor
Cleveland, April 5.—Social illness, a new medical term which describes persons who are ill for no other reason than unhappiness over their environment, was recognized today by the American College of Physicians.

Dr. Edward Weiss of Temple University, Philadelphia, said that a third of those who see a doctor do not have any definite bodily disease to account for their illness, and another third seem to have symptoms that are partly due to emotions.

"The ill health," he said, "arises from long-standing dissatisfaction in the business, social or home life of the individual and this failure of adjustment to environment is manifested by a disturbance in some part of the personality, either as bodily symptoms of various kinds, capable of mimicking almost any disease, or as affectations of the spirit."

Flanders Dunbar of Columbia University said that emotions are capable of affecting not only the heart and digestive system but the whole network of blood vessels.

A study of 1,500 persons admitted to the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center for cardiovascular disease, diabetes, broken bones and allergy showed that approximately 80 per cent were affected by some psychic factor that probably contributed to the illness.

Dr. Edward L. Bortz of the University of Pennsylvania said social factors contributed to the illness of 75 per cent of a group of 200 sick persons admitted to the Lankenau hospital. Ninety per cent of these were cured but the successful treatment included adjustment of their social problems.

AGED CRIPPLE KILLED

Rio, Ill., April 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Anna Rose, 71, a cripple, was struck and killed by a Burlington passenger train last night. Mrs. Rose was attempting to flag the train to a stop at the station platform. Engineer C. M. Thomas said the pilot struck her.

'American Enterprise Smeared With Broth from Pot of Horror'—Willkie

Boston, April 5.—(AP)—Holding that American industry had become a "whipping boy" for government, Wendell Willkie, utilities executive asserted today that current economic suffering in the United States was primarily the fault of government.

"By its sinister rumors the government has created a government-made depression," the president of Commonwealth & Southern said in a prepared address before the Boston Chamber of Commerce. "The economic suffering of the American people today is not the fault of industry; it is primarily the fault of government."

"We shall not provide jobs for the workers of America, new products for the consumers of America, and new expanding industries for the investors of America until the dark legend against American business is destroyed."

The "dark legend," Willkie declared, has slowly destroyed the confidence of the people in American business; x x x has made it impossible for the American business man to obtain the capital which he needs for his enterprises, to build the plants and to employ the men required for expanding industry.

The utilities executive, who said he would accept the Republican presidential nomination if it were offered him, declared this "dark legend" has continued for almost eight years. The politicians, he said, "brewed a kind of witch's broth out of a pot of horror and smeared it all over American enterprise."

Paris.—France considering death sentences for communist propagandists; four French soldiers are artillery casualties.

Berlin.—Authorized sources declare Sumner Welles victimized by French in posing with "reich dismemberment" map; report about 15 French killed in western front skirmishing.

Washington.—Pittman, senate foreign relations chairman, rejects new suggestion for inquiry into nazi "documentation" of alleged United States war "connivance"; United States to hold Tokyo—rather than Nanking puppet regime—responsible for any infringements in China.

Honolulu.—British liner Mauretania, on mystery war mission, calls here; apparently enroute to New Zealand or Australia to pick up troops.

Belgrade.—Yugoslavia reported to have denied guard for German blockade runners passing through territorial waters.

Genoa.—Washington orders American ships to halt calls at French Mediterranean ports.

By The Associated Press

British aircraft bombed German warships near their Wilhelmshaven base yesterday, damaging four destroyers, the air ministry reported today in a communique partly dispelling a pall of apparent inaction that hung over the European war.

In another sphere of international conflict, Secretary of State Cordell Hull said the United States had proposed to Mexico arbitration to settle the two-year-old dispute over Mexico's expropriation of American oil properties. Hull would not say how Mexico had reacted to the proposal, which was similar to one made in 1938.

The French and Germans reported the usual patrol skirmishes on the western front, the Germans saying about 15 French were killed, while the French mentioned four artillery casualties.

On the diplomatic front the quiet was more notable.

There was talk in London of a possible joint British and French parliament aimed at forming an empire partnership so strong that "no aggressor would dare challenge it."

New Economic Weapon

Britain readied her newest economic weapon against Germany—the English Commercial Corporation, Ltd., to sell British products in southeastern Europe and to buy up goods which Germany might otherwise get—while the House of Commons looked forward to a secret debate next Thursday on blockade methods.

Germany was reported to have failed in an attempt to get Yugoslavia to guard German merchant ships carrying Yugoslav bauxite through the Adriatic. The ore, from which aluminum is obtained, is not regarded by Yugoslavia as a war material. Official sources previously had said she would sanction its shipment through territorial waters.

Britons Go to Races

A large section of the British public was more occupied with the first war-time running of the Grand National steeplechase at Aintree today than with news of the war.

The French were reported preoccupied with their campaign against communism. The government was understood to be considering a decree to make dissemination of communist propaganda a treasonable offense punishable by death.

The British liner Mauretania, presumably bound for Australia or New Zealand for possible use as a troop ship, was expected to leave Honolulu after a stop for fuel and water.

Board Chairman Risetter Names 1940 Committees

Harvey O. Risetter of Willow Creek township was officially seated as chairman of the Lee county board of supervisors at the regular April meeting yesterday afternoon, having been the unanimous choice of the board members for the honor. Committee appointments for ensuing year were announced and brought forth many surprises according to some of the members. Some of the new committees were completely reorganized and John S. Archer of Compton was named chairman of the road and bridge committee, the most coveted appointment of all committees.

Dixon township was neglected completely on this important committee, which in addition to the Brooklyn township supervisor, is composed of Justin Becker, May township; Albert Willis, Lee Center; Patrick Lally, Marion, and Harold Wolf, Nachusa. Supervisor Willis of Lee Center was the only hold-over member from the old committee. The several committees named, were as follows:

Heads Liquor Commission

Supervisor Risetter, by virtue of his chairmanship, becomes the head of the Lee county liquor control commission. Supervisor D. H. Spencer, Dixon and Milton Vaupel, Bradford township, were named to represent Lee county at the annual convention of the Illinois Association of County Officers to be held at Aurora April 24 to 26.

Acting upon a recommendation of the road and bridge committee, the board voted to maintain minimum wage rates for construction projects financed through the motor fuel tax fund during the ensuing year. This action was taken at the request of local organized labor representatives who urged the adoption of a uniform wage scale.

An appropriation of $2,000 was voted from the general fund to be used in completing the WPA project on the County Home road. There was opposition to the appropriation, which County Superintendent of Highways Fred Leake explained was necessary to complete the spreading of about 3,000 yards of crushed rock on the road surface.

Lee County Voters Can Change Parties

Springfield, Ill., April 5.—(AP)—Illinois voters who did not participate in city or county primaries last year are free to switch their political party affiliation in next Tuesday's statewide primaries, Attorney General John E. Cassidy held today.

Citing a new amendment to the election law permitting voters to change parties every 23 months, Cassidy said in an opinion that a voter need not call for the same party ballot on April 9 that he voted in the general state primary of 1938.

The opinion asserted, however, that voters who cast ballots in the 1939 city primaries in Chicago and some downstate cities could not change parties this year because 23 months had not elapsed since these voters officially declared their party preference at the polls.

Horner, Barrett Clash Over Bids for Vote of Aged

Springfield, Ill., April 5.—(AP)—Governor Horner and State Auditor Edward J. Barrett, on opposing sides in the bitter Democratic primary fight, today clashed over a bid for old age pension votes.

With the disclosure that Barrett had sent letters to old age assistance recipients urging support for the Stelle-Adamowski-Barrett ticket, Horner made public a letter expressing "regret" at injecting "old age assistance into Democratic primary contests" and commending the organization candidate, Harry B. Hershey.

Barrett, in letters received by old age recipients in many parts of the state, said a vote for the Stelle-Adamowski-Barrett slate "is a vote for men who are interested in you."

Noiseless

Chicago, Apr. 5.—(AP)—Thanks to the city council, this has been one of the quietest election campaigns the loop has seen—or heard—in years.

In previous campaigns the streets used to thunder with calliope and sound trucks that hurled the claims of candidates 20 stories into the air.

But on Dec. 21 the board of aldermen passed an ordinance prohibiting the use of any whistle, rattle, bell, gong, clapper, drum, horn, organ, mechanically-operated piano, other musical instrument, sound amplifier or similar mechanical device on or in close proximity to a public way.

Numerous requests have been made by political organizations to send out sound trucks, but all have been refused.

Uncle Sam Once Wanted to Know How Many Petticoats Each of Women Wore

Chicago, April 5.—(AP)—Questions asked by the 1940 census-takers were found by a University of Chicago professor today to be relatively innocuous.

Completing a historical survey of 150 years of census-taking in the United States, Dr. Wayne McMillen, professor of social service administration, said that in 1850 the populace was asked:

"Are you deaf, dumb, blind, insane, idiotic, a pauper or a convict?"

In 1890, the enumerator asked about diseases or other afflictions in the family, military service and farm ownership.

Dr. McMillen said that the first census, in 1790, sought only to tabulate the number of free and

THE STRAW VOTE

Opponents of Dwight H. Green are making heroic attempts to look nonchalant about the straw votes that are being taken by various newspapers, universities and other agencies in Illinois to test the sentiment of the voters concerning the coming primary election. This clear barometer of the state of mind of the voters is passed off as a silly matter that has no weight. The best answer they have been able to think up is to trot around with printed facsimiles of a cancelled check they say was paid to Green by a corporation for legal services he is said to have rendered as a lawyer some years ago. Well, corporations don't hire dummies. They employ the most intelligent and most capable men they can find.

Even newspapers and agencies that are unfriendly to Mr. Green are publishing straw vote results that clearly show a wide margin of lead for Green over his opposition. Green leads in big city, small city and in the country. It all adds up to the fact that Illinois wants a man of Green's high type to take over the management at Springfield and next Tuesday's election will demonstrate that fact.

The voters have faith in the honesty and courage and administrative ability of Dwight H. Green. They want him for our next Governor.

Mr. Green speaks in Dixon this Saturday evening. Come and hear him and meet him and judge for yourself.

More High Water Surges in Valley of Susquehanna

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 5.—(AP)—The second flood crest in a week surged down the heavily-populated Susquehanna valley today.

With headwaters of the stream still rising, observers predicted the new crest would go within three feet of last Monday's flood levels.

North of the New York line, the river fed by recent rains and melting snow went up three feet overnight and was expected to rise three to four feet more. Just below the New York-Pennsylvania border, Sayre reported a rise to two feet.

At Towanda, where lowlands were awash for a second time, the river went up three and a half feet to a 19.6 foot stage, Monday's crest there was slightly over 23 feet.

In Wilkes-Barre, where populous nearby communities were hard hit earlier this week, lowlands were under water again with the stream still rising at 25.4 feet. The river had gone up almost three feet and a crest of 27.5 was expected by tomorrow; last Monday the river hit a high mark of 31.6 feet.

Downstream, as the valley widened, less rise was reported.

Radio Engineers Make Study of Reception in Dixon and This Vicinity

With a view of eliminating, as far as is possible, interference, distortion, fading, etc. in a radio reception when a new alignment of frequencies of Chicago broadcasting stations is promulgated—probably in June, it was reported here today—Columbia Broadcasting Co. has a group of engineers in Dixon making a week's test of reception of signals of three main Chicago stations.

The engineers' instruments record on a tape, all interference, distortion, fading and other difficulties in reception, and these graphs will be of vital aid to experts when the new frequency alignments are assigned.

To Fight Extrajudicial

Salem, Ill., Apr. 5.—(AP)—An oil company here promised to block "with full resources" employee Howard Martin's extradition by Oklahoma authorities, who allege he escaped from prison there in 1924 while serving a term on a murder charge.

Sheriff H. E. Vogt arrested Martin, field superintendent for a drilling company, last night at Oklahoma's request. Vogt said Kentucky refused to extradite Martin six years ago. He has lived in Illinois since 1938.

CARD PARTIES RESUMED

The regular weekly card parties will be resumed beginning Sunday evening April 7th in St. Mary's school hall with the following in charge: Mrs. Jack Malach, Mrs. John Gay, Mrs. George Becker and Miss Thelma Kuehna.

The annual school program given on Sunday evening in St. Mary's school hall by the pupils of the parochial school was well attended. The local Sisters deserve much praise for the exceptionally fine program presented at that time. The pupils were very well trained and showed real acting ability. The musical numbers gave those attending an appreciation of the progress being made in the musical education of the local school children.

Not For the New Deal, But For a Square Deal

Thirty-two years ago a boy started school in the first grade in Dixon. He worked hard and he played hard, passed his examinations and had a good time.

He graduated from the Dixon grade schools—the Dixon high school, and then went to our state university at Urbana, Illinois. After the first year, he worked his own way through the University of Illinois, graduating in 1923 from the College of Agriculture.

Good schools and good instruction help one to secure a better education. But all education is not secured in schools.

For the next 11 years he was employed by a large corporation in Chicago which coupled with hard work gave him a splendid business training. During these years he used his spare time in studying accounting, business administration and law. Graduating from the John Marshall Law School, he was admitted to the bar in February, 1935.

He is a member of the Illinois State Bar Association and vice-president of the Lee County Bar Association and is now engaged in private practice of law in Dixon.

His name is Elwin S. Wadsworth. He is now working to become state's attorney of Lee County.

He needs—wants—and will appreciate your help in electing Elwin S. Wadsworth state's attorney.

LEWIS MIGHT LIKE TO TALK TO LEMKE ABOUT THIRD PARTY

By W. B. RAGSDALE

Washington, April 5—John L. Lewis might like to talk to William Lemke before he goes very far with his threat to start a third party movement unless the Democrats choose an acceptable platform and candidates.

Remember Lemke? He ran for president in 1936 on the Union party ticket. He is still a representative from North Dakota. He still wears a Republican label after his name—as he did in 1936.

But there is one big difference between the Lemke of 1936 and the Lemke of 1940. In 1936, he had no illusions about the ideals that motivated the two major parties. He did see hope in the third party movement.

In 1940, he still has no faith in either the Republicans or the Democrats.

those present may ask questions of a "Board of Experts."

Business is Good, Thanks—so you'll get plenty for your old car and more in your new one at your Buick dealer's

Above is the Buick SPECIAL 4-door touring sedan $8996*

WE'RE talking here to those thousands who have not yet achieved a lifetime ambition. That is to say, they don't yet own a Buick.

We want to point out a few facts about the Buick SPECIAL pictured here—show how it swings wide the door on a golden opportunity.

Step into this sleek sweetheart. Your treadle foot touches off a trigger—quick Dynaflex straight-eight engine that's just about the smoothest thing that runs, thanks to micro-poised-balancing after assembly.

Swing through the gear changes and you find the same easy, finger-flick shifting as in the most costly Buick. And the same recoil-mounted Knee-Action soaking up bumps before they reach your hand on the steering wheel.

Take a rough road in stride. You'll find that stout Buick Coil Springs muffle out the bumps — and they'll never need lubrication.

Look out through the easy-vision Safety Plate Glass in every window. Check up on the equipment: Two-Way Direction Signal with automatic cut-off, built-in automatic choke, oil-filter, high-capacity water pump—they're all there.

Here's the smart style, the blithe performance and the solid, substantial Buick quality of materials and workmanship that make this the car you've been looking forward to.

Yet the figures on the SPECIAL make you think it's a six instead of a husky straight-eight. Indeed, when you count in the included equipment, it costs no more than some cars with lower advertised prices.

So look into the Buick SPECIAL. See if this isn't the time to "step up" to the car you've always wanted.

You can take a trial drive any time just by asking your Buick dealer.

Prices begin at $895

for Business Coupe—Sedan prices start at $955—

*delivered at Flint, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and repudiated by those whose passions and interests they oppose. Adversity has taught that lesson. Hence a wise and frugal government, which shall preserve our rights as we have inherited them, shall be cautious not to excite a party in the United States by the adoption of one side or the other in foreign quarrels, which divide the empire, alienate the friends of the government, and excite animosity between the people and their representatives." From the Farewell Address.

"Voters' Choice for Governor Significant"

—The Daily Pantagraph, Bloomington, Ill.
In the Republican primary Dwight H. Green of Chicago opposes Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville, a Chicago suburb.

Mr. Lyons stumped the state in 1938 for senator, running against Scott Lucas. He was beaten by a small majority, but carried the state outside of Chicago. He had served several terms in the legislature prior to running for senator.

Mr. Green is making his first bid for state office. His campaign has been energetic but dignified. Mr. Green's record as a federal district attorney and his successful prosecution of Al Capone and other Chicago lawbreakers brought him into public prominence and led to his nomination for mayor in 1939, when he polled a surprisingly large vote against Mayor Kelly and his powerful organization.

Lyons and Green are opposites in temperament and methods. Chief objection to Lyons in his former campaign were his extravagant promises and his apparent lack of appreciation for the hard realities in office. Mr. Green is refraining from promising rashly, but insists that he will give an economical administration in all that means.

On comparison of personal characteristics of the two men and their records to date, we are of the opinion that the Republicans will name their best man by nominating Green for governor.

Did You Ever Call an M. D. to Fix Your Watch?

When you become ill, and believe the ailment warrants professional attention, you send for a doctor. Regardless of what kind of doctor he may be, whether he is a doctor of medicine, chiropractic, osteopathy or any of the other variations of the healing art you send for a practitioner of some particular school because you believe he can bring about recovery.

Many of us are so "set" in our ways that just any M. D., chiropractor or osteopath won't do. We have to have a certain one. If, in case of emergency we get the services of one with whom we are not acquainted, we spend about half the time telling what's the matter with us, and the other half wondering whether this stranger is qualified.

In practically every walk of life we are highly selective. If Fido gets distemper, we call in a veterinarian. If the water pipes burst, we demand a doctor of plumbing. When the fuse blows and the lights go out, we must have a doctor of electricity. We wouldn't think of permitting a steam fitter, for example, to repair our radio. And our selectiveness has reached a point where, if we should ask an electrician to repair a leaky roof, this man would refuse the assignment. The glazier wouldn't attempt to set type in a print shop. The printer doesn't feel qualified to paint your house.

In other words, when something needs to be done, we have a habit of calling upon experienced and recognized artisans in minor matters, such as putting in a new doorstep, and in important matters, such as removing an appendix.

But in connection with government, we hire almost anybody.

The charge has been made in all seriousness, and never disproved, that in the grave matter of making our government function we select men more for the color of their hair and eyes, or their taste in dress, or for their lodge affiliations, or for their radio voice, or because they happen to live in a certain area—we select men more for these qualifications than we do for their knowledge of handling the intricate affairs of government.

Very often we vote for Tom, who wants office, purely because we are angry with Dick, who has had the job, and ignore Harry, who is qualified. We have seen men run for office purely on the platform that "It's Time for a Change." And we have seen them elected on that platform by a populace which hadn't the slightest knowledge of what kind of change Tom meant to put into effect.

How many voters—as primary election day approaches—have inquired into the qualifications of all the candidates. We need to know, first, about the character of the candidate. Is he consistent? What are his connections, the connections that extend away back before he got bitten by the political bug? Has he ever held office before? If so, have you talked with any one who made his acquaintance while in office? Did he serve well, or was he a pure politician who never permitted his oath of office to interfere with a chance to get votes?

If your candidate has ever been in business or industry or in a profession, how did he succeed? How was he regarded by his fellow workers or associates?

Our scheme of things does not provide training in government and politics to the same degree that a physician is trained for his work. Almost nobody makes a life career of government because the people have a habit of throwing folks out of office every few years. But we can at least select sincere and open-minded candidates.

The business of considering everything but prime qualifications has led this country near enough to the brink.

News BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, April 4 — Tom Dewey, the little boy blue of Republicanism, has a long way to go.

A careful personal inside check of delegate prospects gives the prosecuting candidate a potential first ballot delegate strength of 252 as of today. This is only half of what he needs to be nominated.

Against him the immediate prospective total is 274. This is a rockbound minimum which does not involve any highly doubtful primaries. It includes Ohio 52 for Taft, Michigan 38 for Vandenberg, Massachusetts 34 for Martin or Lodge, Pennsylvania 72 for James, California 14 uncommitted, Kansas 18 for Landon, Oregon 10 for McNary, and New Hampshire 8 for Bridges.

Beyond this the Dewey opposition can look forward with some assuring degree of certainty to about 176 of the 214 delegates from southern and border states. The Dewey organization practically concedes this. His only good chances south of the Mason-Dixon line are in Texas 26 and Florida 12.

Thus the total visible opposition delegate strength at the moment seems to be about 450, which is 51 short of a majority.

This certainly means the opposition has today a better chance of stopping Dewey than Dewey has of the nomination.

The Dewey group knows this but their plan is to roll up such a psychological advantage as to cause a break in the opposition. In this they are looking straight at Governor Landon for one. The Kansan was once considered rather friendly to the Dewey forces, although lately he has been extremely non-committal. At any rate Landon will have only 18 votes from Kansas plus whatever amount of less than 34 he might be able to get from his good friend, House Floor Leader Joe Martin, in Massachusetts. It would not be enough to nominate Dewey. The New Yorker's base strength of 252 arises from those he won in Wisconsin: the 58 he will pick up unchallenged in Illinois next Tuesday, possibly 82 in New York, 32 in New Jersey, 7 in Nebraska (the may get more in Tuesday's primary), 26 in Texas, 12 in Florida, and 1 in Mississippi (the latter three being decidedly uncertain). In addition he might get 50 votes more from western states, but beyond these reasonable expectations the going will be tough and maybe rough.

Possibility that Senator Vandenberg might withdraw if his surprise shelling in Wisconsin is repeated in Nebraska next week, has been loftily considered among Republican calculators, but if there is any ground for this assumption, the change is not likely to help Dewey. The Michigan senator would no doubt prefer to throw his strength to Senator Taft.

The Wisconsin Democratic result has strengthened the belief that Roosevelt is running for control of the nomination rather than the nomination itself. If he follows the direction of the prevailing dairy state winds (and he has rarely neglected opportunities to lead the breeze in the past) he will keep his third term movement going until he gets complete control of the convention and then hands it over to another.

The Democratic delegate check list shows Roosevelt has the nomination very near his pocket. His roughly calculated delegate voting prospects today approximate 507, 40 short of a majority. This figure is reached by giving him Illinois, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, most of Pennsylvania, and a half dozen smaller state delegations where his power seems unchallengeable, together with the ten Roosevelt delegates already selected in Maine, 8 in New Hampshire and those in Wisconsin.

The resistance total now in sight is only 241, which shows again that Roosevelt won most of this fight at the last convention when his forces succeeded in abrogating the two-thirds rule. This resistance level is fixed by calculating the number of favorite son states (for instance, Bankhead, Alabama, 22; McNutt, Indiana, 28; Garner, Texas, 46). In addition the opposition can clearly get about 100 more votes, enough to stop a nomination under the two-thirds rule but not under the new majority rule.

The most important message to the Democratic politicians from the Wisconsin results was reached by adding the total Garner and Republican votes. This addition showed there were more voters in Wisconsin last Tuesday against Roosevelt than for him.

All these considerations indicate Roosevelt has the choice on the one hand of nominating himself in person or by proxy (Jackson-Douglas-Corcoran-Ickes) and thereby splitting the Democratic party and injuring its chances of victory. Or on the other hand he can offer a nominee who would hold the party together, State Secretary Hull, being the single apparent example.

SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

COPYRIGHT, 1940,
NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Eddie begins his training with a light workout and three rounds with Kelly. Although he is supposed to be sparing, Cavalier pounds Kelly without mercy. Val makes Duffy stop the slaughter, calls Cavalier a heel.

CHAPTER VIII

EDDIE and Mike sparred lightly the last two rounds and when Pop Grimes called a halt Cavalier went over and took both of Mike's hands in his.

"I'm sorry about that first round, Mike. Honest I am. That dame there, . . . I guess, . . . Well, it just . . ."

Mike nodded. "Yeah, kid. I know. That's okay . . . forget it. You didn't hurt me much."

Eddie slapped him on the back and rushed below to take a shower.

Val Douglas looked after him thoughtfully. "He might be genuinely sorry but it'll still make a good story. I'm filing my first one tonight."

"Never mind your story," Kelo waived. "What about our $5000 forfeit money?"

"I don't know why I should play Santa Claus, but I might have an idea about that, too," she said.

SHE found Captain Hansen in his cabin. Quickly she explained the situation they had put Kelo in. "Stevie," she concluded, "I'm going to wire Uncle Hank the facts and have him lend Duffy the money."

Captain Hansen looked at her a long time before replying. "Honey," he said gently, "how those three men really came on board will have to be held from your Uncle Hank for awhile. It's bad enough he'll be knowing they're on board just as he reads the papers. But there's something more important."

He paused for another moment. "As much as your Uncle Hank would want to do anything in the world for you he wouldn't be able to scrape up $5000 in less than a month—if at all," he added significantly.

"Stevie—what do you mean? That isn't so much."

"Normally, it wouldn't be, but remember I told you we have a lot of reconditioning to do? Well, Uncle Hank has just about every penny he could get his hands on already tied up. That's why we need this Hallday contract to wind things up. Then we'll be bouncing right back up there again."

She nodded. "I didn't think. . . I had no idea Uncle Hank was working on such a close margin. What happened?"

"Well, just between you 'n me, honey, that rival line is trying to freeze us out of the coast trade. An' they haven't been too particular about their methods."

"Is that what you meant when you mentioned those tough breaks we've been having lately?"

He nodded. "Fire in our freight warehouse once. Two tons of salmon hijacked on the road before we could deliver it to the consignee. Little delays here and there that

MT. MORRIS COACH TELLS FOREIGN TRAVELERS ABOUT HIS EUROPEAN WANDERINGS

Sections of Europe which are a closed book to most tourists were analyzed last evening for Foreign Travel club members by Coach Wendell Schrader of Mt. Morris high school, who with Mrs. Schrader, spent part of last summer with relatives in southern Bavaria. Mrs. S. W. Lehman of Bluff Park was the evening's hostess.

The Schraders made their headquarters at the home of Mrs. Schrader's mother at Schleisssee in the foothills of the Alps, from where they made many interesting sidetrips. Several reels of moving pictures, partly in technicolor, illustrated the travelogue.

Accompanied by German relatives, the couple was able to glimpse Hitler's home at Berchtesgarden they sat from 2 until 7 p. m. one afternoon on a mountainside, observing a concentration camp ward, the couple learned they were extremely fortunate in being able to enter the school, as not even parents of the children are admitted. All schools are equipped with bomb-proof cellars which provide protection against possible air raids.

At the theater at Oberammergau, the travelers were shown the costumes worn by the characters in the Passion Play, the 285-year-old table used in the scene of the Last Supper, and in courtesy to Mrs. Schrader, who is serving as Esther in the O. E. S. chapter at Mt. Morris, Mr. Lang sang an aria from Esther in the play.

Evidence of Hitler's gigantic construction program were seen everywhere, particularly at Nuremberg. Huge parade grounds, used only for marching by the National Socialist party, were seen on every side. One of the stadiums, then under construction, was planned to seat 400,000 people when completed.

Fishing Is Regulated
Fishermen in Germany, Mr. Schrader found, are governed by much more rigid regulations than the mere purchase of a license. Anglers are allowed to wet their lines only in "fish waters" leased from the national government. The speaker described a fishing trip he made with a cousin, who rents four such "fish waters" from the government.

Enthusiasm for physical culture and sports of all kinds marks the Americans as "black devils."

The Americans sensed an undercurrent of dislike for Hitler. His support, they believe, is stronger in the north than in the south, where they were told about 60 percent of the people are willingly loyal.

Visit German School
The Schraders' arrival at a German school was accorded the "Heil, Heil, Heil Hitler" salute by the students—and the same triple salute to the fuhrer followed the Amen of schoolroom devotions conducted by a Catholic priest. In the gymnasium, activity on the floor ceased, the class stood at attention, and the Americans were told they could not be permitted to watch any of the work. After-the new Germany, the Americans believe, and they were interested in visiting and photographing Garmisch-Partenkirchen, where the Fourth Winter Olympiad was held in 1936.

Mr. Schrader also spoke of the couple's visit to Paris, during which they became lost while sightseeing; described their trip through the Marne river country, now presenting a peaceful contrast to the conflict staged there during the World war; told of difficulty with German officials who saw him taking pictures of the Rhine; gave his impressions of Innsbruck, and Mozart's home at Salzburg; spoke of being delayed at Brenner Pass, until fortifications were completed; and gave a brief account of visits to Verona, Venice, Florence, Pisa, and Genoa.

Advised to Leave
Returning to Munich, the visitors were advised by a relative they should leave the country as quickly as possible, due to developments arising from a meeting of the National Socialists—thus the Schraders' reservations with the North Lloyd Line were hastily readjusted for an earlier sailing date.

"Three days before we left," Mr. Schrader said, "a ban was placed on gasoline. Newspapers told of the great love of the Germans for the Italians, the great love of the Italians for the Germans, and pointed out how terrible England was. We were told that Hitler would attack Danzig that weekend, but was talked out of it."

Miss Jane Francis, program chairman, introduced the speaker, and announced that the next meeting would be held at "Whitthorne", with Dr. and Mrs. Z. W. Moss as hosts, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schade of Ashton as speakers.

Mrs. H. A. Lazier told of the marriage of Miss Ellen du Poy of Chicago, who became the bride of J. N. Daniel in Philadelphia last month. Mrs. Daniel who was guest speaker at the March meeting of the club, met her bridegroom, an archeologist, while residing in Greece, and the couple expect to return to that country.

SUPPOSE

You were forced to buy a house in a strange city on an hour's notice. Do you think you could buy wisely? Surely you would always regret the hasty, costly selection.

Yet many families are compelled to buy burial place (the final dwelling place) with as little knowledge or notice.

Has counseled with hundreds of families in this community regarding such a provision. These families have expressed their appreciation for this counsel in many ways.

Girl 11 Cruel—

Edwards to conclude, he said, that Chloe awakened while her mother was still in bed; went to the kitchen where Marquis and Daphne were playing and fatally bludgeoned them; then encountered her mother in the hallway, struck her down with the hammer and beat her to death.

Captain Edwards said the palms of Chloe's hands were blistered, apparently from considerable use of the hammer.

Continuing his reconstruction of the tragedy, Edward said:

"Chloe then went into the bathroom and killed Ann. In an attempt to disguise the whole affair, she tried to burn her mother's body. She dragged a mattress from a daybed in her mother's bedroom, placed her mother's body on the mattress and started a fire.

Thought Things Over
"The nightgown was burned from Mrs. Davis, but Chloe saw she could not, as she hoped to do, burn the house. She changed her clothing, took an hour to think things over, concocted a story about her mother believing in 'demons' and called her father."

When the father reached home, Edwards said Chloe told him, when he inquired what was wrong, "You'd better go in the kitchen and see."

Chloe, suffering from a head injury police believe she either suffered in a struggle with her mother or she inflicted upon herself with the hammer to substantiate her story that her mother was responsible for the crime, answered police questions with no show of emotion and then sat down and ate a meal.

Police planned to renew their questioning of the girl today with the aid of her father who moved here with his family five years ago from Grand Rapids, Mich.

KILLED INVALID MOTHER

Chicago, Pa., April 5—(AP)—Mrs. Emma Moore, 64-year-old widow invalid whose son hurled gasoline on her and stood by today in a Butler hospital from burns that covered her face and body.

Lieut. Andrew J. Hudock said the son, 24-year-old George Moore, wielded a hatchet to prevent nurse and George's brother, William, from aiding the woman. The nurse, Ethel O'Brien, 25, suffered a fractured skull and William Moore was cut badly on the face and head.

Hudock said a murder charge would be filed against the normally mild-mannered youth and a mental commission might be named to examine him. Moore, held on a district attorney's detainer, refused to talk.

tion to Mexico to settle the two-year-old dispute over Mexico's expropriation of American oil properties.

Meanwhile, the Dies committee announced the arrest here of two Boston communists who had refused to answer questions put them in hearings on un-American activities. The idea was to avoid possible extradition complications should the two return to Massachusetts.

House economy advocates were rolling up their sleeves today for one of the toughest bouts of the session—a battle to prevent a $500,000,000 increase in the proposed $985,000,000 WPA fund.

Relief moved to the top of the card after the house yesterday passed the $784,999,094 army bill, the last of the session's 11 regular appropriation bills. As approved by the house, these measures provide for total expenditures of $6,120,123,932.

Thus far, the house has managed to hold spending below Roosevelt's budget estimates, with a single exception. It joined the economy program only on the labor department-federal security bill, tacking on about $67,000,000 primarily for the CCC and the National Youth administration.

In several instances, however, the senate already has boosted the house figures.

On the relief question, the move for heavier spending found support in both house and senate.

No sooner had a house appropriations sub-committee started hearings on the WPA estimates yesterday than Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) launched an effort to add $150,000,000 to the current year's relief fund of $1,447,000,000.

Horner, Barrett—

ated in you."

The letters, sent from campaign headquarters, credited Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, Hershey's opponent, with originating the $40 maximum monthly assistance bill passed by the legislature last year and later vetoed by Horner.

Federal Investigation?
Charles E. Bliss, Hershey's downstate campaign manager, also criticized Barrett's letter and said he had been informed federal social security officials were "investigating use of old age assistance rolls as a political mailing list."

After vetoing the $40 old age pension bill, Horner last August said he did so before congress approved a measure to increase federal grants to states for old age assistance. He asserted at that time that he would call a special session of the legislature to reenact the bill and his latest statement on the subject last week said the assembly would be convened "about April 15."

In a form letter to old age pensioners, Barrett said in part:

"Each month when I sign your check for old age assistance, I wish that it might be a larger amount. Unfortunately, even though the Illinois law was amended in 1939 to increase the maximum assistance from $30 to $40 a month, the bill was vetoed by Governor Horner x x x

Mentions Candidacy

"I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Auditor of Public Accounts, my running mates are John Stelle, candidate for governor, and Benjamin S. Adamowski, candidate for United States Senator. We are all great believers in old age assistance."

"I know that when John Stelle becomes governor, one of his first official acts will be to call a special session of the legislature to pass a bill to make the Illinois law conform to the federal law which provides for a maximum of $40 a month old age assistance. x x x

"Your vote in the Democratic primary for the Stelle-Adamowski-Barrett ticket is a vote for men who are interested in you."

Inquiry at the governor's office was met with the statement that Horner had sent replies to "about 25 or 30" old age assistance recipients who asked about the Barrett letter. Horner's letter said in part:

Horner Replies

"With great regret I learn that some office seekers for their own personal benefit, have injected old age assistance into the Democratic primary contest. x x x

"I have noted that our present state auditor has sought to create the impression that he and the present lieutenant governor are the original and sole proponents of old age assistance in Illinois and that they are the only persons with whom old age assistance is safe."

"This false claim is, of course, ridiculous. x x x I urge that you pay no attention to such claims as are made by the two candidates mentioned above."

"In conclusion, I suggest that in Harry B. Hershey you have a candidate for governor who is a sincere believer in old age assistance; who has not sought, and will not seek, to make political capital out of such measures; a man in whom you can safely trust your security."

Man Gives Party

in South Africa

From far away Union of South Africa comes news of a party given at Cape Town in February by Mrs. R. Marloth, mother of W. S. Marloth of this city. Mrs. Marloth, who was observing her birthday anniversary, started her celebration with a bridge party, proceeded to a tea party and completed it with a party for members of the Union Swimming club, of which she is president.

The following paragraphs, reprinted from the Cape Times, describe the festivities:

"One of the nicest of Mrs. Marloth's birthday gifts, she said, was the birthday cake made, and presented to her, by Mrs. F. Thorpe. There were many baskets and bouquets of flowers, and a whole shawl of telegrams.

"Mrs. D. G. Conradie, wife of the Administrator of South-West Africa, who arrived in Cape Town a few days ago, was at the party. She wore a tailored two-piece beige costume.

"Mrs. Marloth wore a graceful green lace gown completed by a pendant and ear rings of amethysts, her birthday stone. Mrs. J. de Bruyn gave a short speech wishing Mrs. Marloth many more happy years and stressing the long period she and other friends had known her.

Stereoscopes, family picture galleries of yesterday, were invented in England by Sir Charles Wheatstone in 1838.

POLITICS

AP Reports Gossip Among Politicians in Washington

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
Washington, April 5.—The new method of dividing up delegates to Democratic national conventions, which the party's national committee was instructed to submit to the 1940 convention, is not likely to emerge this year.

The committee has made no move toward working out such a plan. Insiders have a feeling that by the time the convention meets in July in Chicago the delegates will have so many bigger things to fight about that they will forget the 1936 bargain.

For the proposal to work out a new way of dividing delegates among the states was a part of the agreement by which 1936 southern delegates withdrew their united demand to retain the 104-year-old two-thirds rule. The 1936 convention was the first in which Democratic nominees had been chosen by a majority vote. Hitherto, the party had required a two-thirds vote of the delegates to nominate.

The solidly-Democratic southern states had relied on this rule to give them a veto power over candidates they did not like.

Senator Clark of Missouri finally offered the solution that whittled away southern opposition. Senator Clark's plan instructed the committee to submit to the 1940 convention a new method which the delegates would thresh over and adopt for use in the 1940 convention. The instruction specified that after 1940 delegates would be apportioned according to the Democratic strength in each state.

"Strength" was specified instead of the vote in general elections because the real fights that turn out votes in the south are in primaries instead of the general elections. Such a plan would go a long way toward restoring vigor to the southern voice in Democratic conventions.

Of course, if they could muster a majority vote, they could force adoption of the two-thirds rule. Convention rules require only a majority vote for adoption. Once adopted, it would take two thirds of the delegates to nominate.

According to a survey made of the 29,400,300 families owning cars during 1935-1936, the greatest expenditure was made by families in the $1000 and $1999 income bracket.

The planes used for transporting air freight in Central America are specially built. Huge double doors, large enough to load a horse or drive a tractor through are built into the plane.

Operating costs of railroads in 1939 dropped 11.5 percent below the 1938 totals.

Spent Aunt's Savings Riotously After Killing Her With Flatiron

Belleville, Ill., April 5—(AP)—Assistant State's Attorney Fred Bier said that Edward Fife, 28, had confessed to killing his aged aunt with a flat iron and spending her money in riotous living.

Directed by Fife, police found the body of the woman, Mrs. Louise May, 69, in the water-filled bathtub of her home, where the unemployed shoe worker said he placed it a few days after the slaying March 14.

In his written confession, Bier said, Fife stated he killed his aunt after a quarrel. Since then, Fife said, he has spent about $300 of her money, secured from sale of a house and hidden in their home, in taverns.

Marshall E. Sampsell, Once Insull Aid, Dead

Chicago, April 5—(AP)—Marshall E. Sampsell, 68, former president of the Central Illinois Public Service Company, one-time unit of the Insull utility empire, died last night after eight months' illness.

Following the Insull organization collapse, Sampsell was indicted on a charge of embezzling 4,000 shares of a stock from the C. I. P. S. He was acquitted in 1934. Sampsell, born in Marshall, Texas, was graduated from the University of Chicago, and the Chicago School of Law. He was survived by four sons.

Proving Brink of Dam Is No Place to Horse Around

If the mare pictured above has any horse-sense, she'll stay on dry land next time she runs away. Louis Phelps of Danville, Va., was riding her near the Dan River when the girth broke, the saddle slipped down and frightened her. She bolted, leaped into the river and struck out for mid-stream. But the current carried the mare to the brink of a dam, where, as seen at left, she balanced precariously. While rescuers pondered, she slipped (right) and was swept over. She was finally led out unhurt except for slight cuts.

It will be Yale versus Harvard and Dartmouth versus Princeton Saturday afternoon as the Badger football players open their first round of annual spring drill intrasquad games. The entire team was divided into the mythical camps by Coach Harry Stuhldreher and his aides. While the general public is not admitted to these contests, past history proves that the men play with as much vigor as under game conditions. Each of the four teams will meet one another on successive Saturdays until an untied champion is determined. The squad will then be split into two teams for the annual "Army-Navy" game which will be played May 4 and opened to the public.

SCORES TECHNICAL K. O.

Elwood McReynolds, formerly of Dixon and who will meet Harry Sparrow in one of the feature CVO bouts here at the high school auditorium on April 16, last night scored a technical knockout over Charles Thurman of Galesburg in the bouts at the Shrine Temple in Rockford. McReynolds defeated Thurman in the first round and twice in the second when Referee Tony Mandell stopped the one-sided battle.

The team was recently entertained by the high school instructors at a theater party and some time ago when they were asked what show they wished to see, they all voted, "Gone With the Wind." The boys have expensive tastes.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

EARN THE HONOR

(By The Associated Press)
Fort Worth, Texas—George Caster seems to have earned for himself the honor of hurling for the Philadelphia Athletics in the opening game against the New York Yankees April 16. He topped off previous good efforts yesterday by twirling six scoreless innings against Fort Worth's Texas Leaguers.

SCHOOLBOY READY TO TRY

Birmingham, Ala.—Schoolboy Rowe was ready to try nine innings against the Brooklyn Dodgers today with a place among the Detroit Tigers' starting pitchers as a possible reward for a good performance. So far this spring Rowe has looked promising.

WIN 11 OF LAST 13

Amarillo, Texas—The Pittsburgh Pirates came to town today with a record of winning 11 of their last 13 games, but not very proud of their latest triumph. In beating the Chicago White Sox 10-9 yesterday the Buccos issued nine bases on balls and made six errors.

TRIBE BEATS GIANTS

Cordele, Ga.—Lou Boudreau, whose ankle bone was chipped a couple of weeks ago, probably will break into the Cleveland Indians' lineup again next week. He had an active workout in the infield drill yesterday before the Tribe beat the New York Giants.

AN OLD FAILING

Jacksonville, Fla.—Their old, old failing of either fanning popping up or grounding into double plays is still with the Phillies. The National League tail-enders muffed several heart-breaking scoring chances yesterday in losing to Minneapolis.

SEES A SOLUTION

Greensboro, N. C.—Manager Bill McKechnie has an idea on how he could solve his left field problem, but it involves Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox. After watching the lean slugger day after day in the clubs' touring series, McKechnie commented wryly: "The Reds could win the pennant by 20 games if we had that kid."

DESERTS DODGERS

Birmingham, Ala.—Larry MacPhail has quietly deserted the Brooklyn Dodgers again and is reported canvassing Florida for another starting pitcher. The failure of Whitlow Wyatt's knee to loosen up has left the Dodgers with only three hurlers regarded as dependable starters—Luke Hamlin, Hugh Casey and Tex Carlton.

OBSERVERS WERE RIGHT

Amarillo, Texas—Observers who have been predicting Rookie Bob Kennedy would be at third base for the Chicago White Sox this season didn't have to back up when the Veteran Eric McNair took over at the hot corner in yesterday's exhibition against the Pittsburgh Pirates. McNair, who has been sidelined several weeks with a lame arm, made two bad throws in first return to the lineup.

STATUS UNCHANGED

Cordele, Ga.—Zeke Bonura's status with the New York Giants is still unchanged. Although out of the good graces of Manager Bill Terry, he continues to look nifty around first base and hold his place among the club's leading hitters.

MORE THAN SATISFIED

San Antonio, Texas—The Chicago Cubs are more than satisfied at this stage of training with Outfielder Dominic D'Alessandro, whom they have dubbed "left hand hitting Hack Wilson." Prior to today's game with the St. Louis Browns the rookie was batting .351 had not fanned in any of 19 games and had waited out 15 bases on balls.

Softball Pilots Look for Talent

1940-41 Conference Schedules Announced

DIXON SOFTBALL MANAGERS LOOK FOR CLUB TALENT

Several Bosses Indicate Probable Lineups for The 1940 Season

Although there are sure to be many changes and trading of players before the Dixon softball season opens at the Airport on the night of May 20, managers are already dickering for clouters, fielders and battery lineups. As a result of the pre-season juggling many of the stars of last year will be playing under new banners and with new teammates this season.

It took no ruling of a Judge Landis to make all of the local softball players free agents, and the race to secure the services of some of the better players has been a free-for-all.

Several of the managers of the 12 clubs which will make up the league this year, have turned in lists of possible players, but all have cautioned that the lists are not definite nor complete. They merely represent a survey of which way the wind is blowing any many a tornado may be expected before lists are final. Even after the season starts there are likely to be several changes according to the trading clause which General Manager O. E. Rowley has permitted into the season's rules.

State Hospital

However, according to Manager Tony Demijan of the State Hospital team, he has lined up the following players for his club this year: Windmiller, c; Helmick, p; Oakly, 1b; Demijan, 2b; Bishop, ss; Burke, 3b; Dooling, lf; Housley, cf; Ruva, rf; Herubin, st. Last season the hospital team won six games and lost six for fourth place in the City League.

Bordens team which last season finished in third place in the Industrial League with seven wins and five defeats, will be managed this year by Harry Quinn. He has indicated that his possible lineup may contain such players as: Holland, K. Hass, V. Oehl, Max Fordham, R. Schroeder, Rayborn, Shuck, Metzger, J. Morris, Jensen, Giese and Weaver.

The I. N. U. team which last season won five and lost seven in the Industrial League will be piloted this year by Joe Hall. Included in the possible roster of the gas, light and power club are: G. Lehre, J. Winters, Ken Hasselberg, Bob Underwood, William Flanagan, Ken Emmert, Bob Krug, Win McReynolds, Don Barnhart, Jensen, Herb Cooper, and Danny Fane.

Kellar's Team

Eddie Nicklaus will take over the job of managing the Kellar's team which wound up the 1939 campaign with four wins and eight defeats. This year Nicklaus will have under his rule the probable list of players consisting of G. Woodbridge, R. Nicklaus, F. Nicklaus, R. Sloan, E. Lindbloom, L. Bucher, P. Loosli, H. Smythe, D. Nicklaus, J. Frase, Byron Wadsworth and H. Mantech.

Reynolds wiremen who were second to the Brown Shoe team in the standings of the Industrial League last year will be managed by Hi Emmert who piloted the California Market to the leadership of the City League in 1939. Hi will work with such players as: Ellis, Cinnamon, Spinden, Flanagan, Wright, Page, Lynch, E. Grove, M. Grove, J. Murphy, G. Carlson, Cox, Trotter, Lyle Fordham, Shires Miller, Bud Kerley and Joe Curlee.

Al Kupper will be the boss of the Freemans team which last season won six and lost six for a 500 percentage in the Industrial league. Under Kupper's rule will be such players as Kuhn, Dempsey, Bus Carlson, Gerber, Bill Chillingworth, Kramer, Al Clayton, Woodridge, Gibson, Pitman, Johnson and Pat Reynolds.

Under New Banner

New to the lineup of teams this year will be Sparky's Fenders, an outfit to be managed by Victor Potts, and comprising many of the players who battled through the season under the Olmstead Service banner. They included: Bud Chiverton, Gene McNamers, Don Bush, John Grove, Bill Owen, Earl Page, Jack Wetter, Victor Potts, Don Nicklaus and John Scriven.

Duplications in lineups only indicate the juggling now going on for players—a situation which will be ironed out to someone's dissatisfaction and another's satisfaction before the opening night. Several team managers, still in doubt, have not indicated their possible rosters.

"Par" Figure Is Still Untouched in A. B. C. Tourney

Detroit, April 5.—(AP)—The 3,000-mark, that elusive "par" figure in five-man bowling, still is untouched in the current American Bowling Congress tournament, despite four weeks of intensive firing at the maples.

Nine teams, including the Altes Lager five of Grand Rapids, Mich., which rolled into fourth place with a count of 2,943 last night, have posted scores over 2,900, but if past records hold good most of these leaders will be displaced before the tournament ends.

Not since 1922 has a score of less than 3,000 won the A. B. C. team event, and in seven of 17 intervening years the winners have posted 3,100 or more.

The highest score ever recorded in the A. B. C. is 3,234, rolled by the Birk Bros. team of Chicago in 1938. That same Birk Bros. team will compete here this week-end, along with others among the nation's best quintets, and A. B. C. officials confidently expect that one or more of the teams will pass the 3,000-mark.

Scoring also has been under the usual standard in the doubles, with only one team exceeding 1,300 and then by only three pins. The last time a comparable score won the event was in 1920.

In the singles, the 730 posted by John Taylor of Upper Darby, Pa., equals the winning mark of last year, but it has been exceeded several times in other tournaments.

LYOYD MANGRUM BREAKS RECORD IN GOLF EVENT

Augusta, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—The most amazing thing about any amazing round of golf is that invariably it could have been even more amazing.

An example is the 64 which Lloyd Mangrum, 25-year-old assistant professional from Oak Park, Ill., shot at the Augusta National Golf club yesterday in the first round of the Masters tournament.

Not only was it eight strokes better than par for this handsome, true-stroke course, but it was one of the lowest scores ever recorded for any single round in a U. S. championship. It also broke the Augusta course record of 66 held jointly by Gene Sarazen and Byron Nelson.

On the bare essentials, it consisted of nine birdies, eight pars and one bogey. Beyond that, it included 32 shots hit perfectly to the greens and never off the fairways. It also included five birdie putts ranging in length from six to 25 feet.

Might Have Been Better

Since that 64 gave Mangrum a three-stroke lead over Jimmy Demaret and his back-nine 30, it would seem it was a satisfactory round. Yet Mangrum could look back with disappointment on those three putts he needed to get down from 25 feet on the tenth hole, the eight-footer for a deuce that he missed on the 16th, and the putt for an eagle 3 on the eighth hole that hit the back of the cup. Boiling that all down, the 64 could have been a 61 with a break or two either way.

It's always that way with these rounds. But Mangrum, in contrast to most other pros, admitted quite frankly that, with a break or two the other way, it also might have been a 70.

"I'm still thinking about some of those putts," he conceded. "If I'd hit them just a bit easier, they would have stopped short of the cup. If I'd hit them just a bit harder, they would have gone over it."

Back of Demaret in a tie for third were Open Champion Byron Nelson, winner here in 1937, and Harry Cooper, with 69's. Lawson Little and Craig Wood had 70's, while one-under-par 71's included Dick Metz, Henry Picard, Sam Snead, Tommy Armour and Willie Goggin. Bobby Jones, the old master, had a 79.

BOWLING

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

With only a few more weeks left in the bowling season Ted's quintet is holding a six game lead in the Commercial league. However, at the Dixon Recreation last night the leaders dropped two games to the third-place Round-Up team. Ed Carlson paced the winners with a total of 470 and Schwank led the losers with 164.

Rube's Kar Treads won three games from Sparky's Fenders. Galos' 455 led the winners while Campbell led his own team with 495.

Hill Bros. won two games from the In and Outers. Hill's 518 was high for his team and Badger rolled 479 for the In and Outers.

Rink's five counted two wins over the Coss team. Shultz was high man for the coolers and Coss led his own dairymen with 181.

There were no games over 200 in the league play last night.

are being stopped and that as the war goes on that strangling effect will more and more drain the lifeblood out of our enemy."

That sounds like a tough way to meet defeat. And it is, for I saw it in operation in Germany during the World War, when the greatest military machine ever created was smashed and the civilian population faced starvation.

Hitler's great problem is to get supplies coming into Germany in sufficient quantities before the blockade exhausts his present stocks.

Just what his position is at the moment isn't apparent, for all official figures naturally are carefully suppressed. Estimates of the drop in Nazi imports run as high as 50 per cent—but they are largely guesswork and I wouldn't attempt to repeat them here.

The only thing we are sure of is that the blockade has squeezed Germany hard, for the Nazis themselves have indicated that. We know that there has been, and was even before the war began, a serious shortage of iron ore and other materials for the manufacture of military equipment. And we know that the German public is on terribly close rations of food and clothes.

Concrete proof of the blockade pressure was given yesterday when Hitler ordered the magnificent bronze doors of the reich chancellery scrapped for metal, thus setting an example of sacrifice to the nation.

Being cut off from sea-borne trade, except for commerce across the Baltic with Scandinavia, Hitler needs must obtain everything he can from all the neutrals of Europe.

Recently the allies have been making heavy inroads on his prospects both in western Europe and the Balkans by the use of gold and political influence. Within the past few days Britain has signed pacts with Belgium, Denmark, Holland, Norway, Sweden and Iceland, depriving the Nazis of still more supplies.

The fields upon which Hitler has been banking most heavily to help pull him through the dangers of the blockade are the Balkans and Russia. The Balkans are a treasure house, especially Rumania, which provides the only source of oil the Germans have been able to tap close to home, but the allies lately have cut much ground from under the fuhrer's feet in this zone. At the moment he cannot get from the Balkans anything like the supplies he needs from them.

As for mighty Russia it is problematical whether the bolsheviks will provide Germany with many supplies, even if they are capable of doing so. The indications are that when the Nazi chieftain signed up with the Reds he sold his birthright for a pretty sour mess of pottage.

Soviet Premier Molotov only a few days ago announced in definite terms that Russia "must maintain a position of neutrality and refrain from participating in the war between the big European powers". British Foreign Secretary Halifax has been consulting with Soviet Ambassador Maisky, and Britain is said to feel that Russia can be kept from closer cooperation with Germany.

However that may be, no great warmth of affection is being displayed by communist leader Stalin toward Nazi leader Hitler.

Some supplies have been getting through from Russia to Germany. We don't know how many, but it is very generally understood in Europe that they have been nothing like Germany expected.

Experts say that actually the Soviet hasn't much surplus to give the Nazis. Russia potentially could furnish the fatherland with almost everything it needs, but the supplies would have to be developed over a term of three years—and the blockade won't wait on that.

It is difficult to see how Hitler can win the economic war unless he can open up Russia and the Balkans in a big way. His chances of getting sufficient supplies from those sources look very slim.

This means that in due course he will be forced to turn to major military action to pull him through.

To Drill on Street

The drum corps and Pep band have appeared in Ashton during the basketball season and will make their initial appearance before the public here tomorrow evening. Through the generosity of a public spirited Ashton citizen, the two organizations of high school girls have been fitted out in attractive uniforms of green satin with gold lining. After presenting their drill maneuvers the girls will proceed in the buses to the Masonic Temple where they will form a most striking and colorful guard of honor for the gubernatorial candidate, Dwight M. Green.

The block on First street between Galena and Ottawa avenues will be closed for a brief period tomorrow evening for the girls to present their program of drills and maneuvers to the accompaniment of music by their band for the entertainment of citizens of Dixon and vicinity. At the Masonic Temple they will again form at the entrance and will escort Mr. Green to the speaker's platform.

Youth is Conscious

In a state-wide broadcast to

Young Republicans last evening Green declared:

"One of the most hopeful signs of 1940 is that youth is conscious of the crisis at hand and is taking part in preparing its future. Never within our memory have the young men and women of our state been so deeply interested and so actively at work in a political campaign.

"The young people of our country have more at stake in its government than any others. Their path is the longest. Their opportunity for life work and happiness depends upon the form of government under which they will live. This year 1940 may determine whether our country will retain liberty and self-government in a world that has gone mad or will turn to a centralized government in which the individual is lost and becomes only a creature of the state.

"We have been born and reared under a government of great liberty and opportunity. Green continued. "Seventy-five years after Lincoln's death we are once more struggling to see whether this nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure." It is the age old issue of liberty and government by the people or the rule of force under a centralized government.

"No generation in our nation's life has had more reason to fight to keep our liberty and opportunity than the young men and women of America in 1940. This is the challenge to Young Republicans of Illinois. It is their opportunity to perform the highest possible service they can render in protecting self-government and preserving the liberty in the darkest hour of despotism throughout a world that has forsaken them. In this spirit I call upon you tonight to devote the next five days to carrying our fight into every home and farm and factory arousing the people of Illinois to go to the polls next Tuesday."

Curious Remedy For Hay Fever Found Effective

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Editor

Cleveland, April 5—People who said they helped their hay fever by eating clover honey in the spring and chewing ragweed leaves in the summer received medical justification yesterday at the American College of Physicians.

This curious legend was investigated by the allergy clinic of the university hospitals of Cleveland, with the result that eating pollen was tried as a medical remedy and found quite effective.

One hundred and thirty hay fever victims acted as the guinea pigs. About half of them took injections of the ragweed pollen, which is a standard method of relieving hay fever, while the other half swallowed capsules filled with the same pollen.

As a result 63 per cent of the pollen eaters were helped considerably, 24 per cent had fair relief and 13 per cent were not relieved at all. This was almost as good as the results of the regular vaccination method, where 70 per cent experienced considerable relief, 19 fair and 11 none.

One Advantage

The capsule method had one advantage. It was easy to take a capsule every day or two, whereas the vaccination requires going to the doctor or the hospital to be scratched with a needle anywhere from 15 to 30 times.

The clinic physicians said there is still a medical controversy over the pollen-eating method, less than a dozen physicians having tested the method.

When taken in a capsule, one hundred times as much pollen must be given as by hypodermic needle. However, even the 100 times multiplication only fills a pill that is small enough to swallow easily.

Cook County's Vote to Determine Races

Chicago, April 5—(AP)—Cook county's role as a determining factor in the primary election was emphasized today by an announcement that 2,036,000 persons in the county would be eligible to vote next Tuesday.

The county clerk and the board of election commissioners reported their final figures showing the total was 195,249 greater than for the 1936 presidential primary.

Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes estimated yesterday that 3,500,000 votes would be cast in the state. He figured there would be 2,000,000 Democratic and 1,500,000 Republican participants. The 1936 primary drew 2,674,713 voters.

Most candidates continued their drive for votes in the metropolitan area today.

George W. Marney, Dean of Capitol's Newsmen, Stricken

Springfield, Ill., April 5—(AP)—George W. Marney, 61, political editor of the Illinois State Journal and Dean of the Capitol Newsmen, died in his home last night of a heart attack.

Marney had been in poor health since 1937 when he suffered a heart attack in the state house. Since then his activities had been confined to office work.

The veteran political writer's first newspaper work was on the Illinois State Register. He left the Register for the Illinois State Journal, where he worked for 38 years before he died.

He was a familiar figure in the House press box and was a close friend of many legislators for a quarter of a century. Born in Springfield in 1878, he never married. He lived with two sisters, who survive him.

Stateville Convicts Fight; One is Injured

Joliet, Ill., April 5—(AP)—An argument between two convicts at the Stateville prison resulted in serious injuries to one of the men, Howard King, 30, of Cook county, Warden Joseph E. Ragen announced.

King and Robert Jones, 20, also of Cook county, were working in the quarry when an argument started. The warden said Jones swung his pick and drove the point into King's jaw.

Jones, who was placed in solitary confinement, is serving a long-term sentence for armed robbery. King is serving one year to life for burglary.
